DYSPEPSIA.

Sedentary habits, mental worry, nervous Sedentary habits, mental worry, nervous excitement, excess or imprudence in eating or drinking, and various other causes, induce Constipation followed by general derangement of the liver, kidneys, and stomach, in which the disorder of each organ increases the infirmity of the others.

The immediate results are Loss of Appetite, Nausea, Foul Breath, Heartburn, Flatulence, Dizziness, Sick Haadaches, failure of physical and mental vigor, distressing sense of weight and fullness in the stomach, sense of weight and fullness in the stoma and increased Costiveness, all of which are and increased Costiveness, all of which are known under one head as Dyspepsia.

In every instance where this disease does not originate from scrofulous taint in the blood, Ayen's Pills may be confidently relied upon to effect a cure. Those cases not amenable to the curative influence of Ayen's Pills alone will certainly yield if the Pills are aided by the powerful blood-purifying properties of Ayen's Sarsaparilla.
